

Take The Leap

About Qral

Qral Group is a boutique management consulting firm that partners with a broad range of pharmaceutical, biotech, and gene therapy companies to support go-to-market strategy, analytics, operations, and information management. We have a flexible remote working model with key client and Qral team members clustered in NY/NJ/PA, Boston, Chicago, San Francisco, and Delhi.

As an organization and individuals we take pride in building genuine, long-lasting relationships with each client. We believe that our relationships are with the individual and should not only survive but also grow as our clients' careers evolve through different functions and different organizations.
